Best time: Summer (Mid June to Mid August)

5. Silent ride, The Pan-American section of the Atacama Desert

This was the most boring of the lot as it's a 2,000+ km long, straight and flat road that cuts through the desert. It is very easy to fall asleep while riding as it is pretty lonely and a quiet zone. I came across many cars and buses that went off the road, and burst into flames. I took frequent breaks, stayed well-hydrated and kept chewing gum. As Indians, we have the advantage of riding in high temperatures, but this was difficult given the dryness and gusty winds. I'd suggest getting an early morning start, a break during peak afternoon, and ending the ride by early evening.

Best season: October to March

Deepak Kamath will be at The Big Biking Commune at Mamallapuram this weekend.

— As told to Nidhi Adlakha
